

RE: Notice of Material Change

- White color material used for White button of the following product.

Description

You are kindly advised that we will change the white color material used for white button of the following product.

This is caused as the present material supplier stop its production and we have to adapt its substitution.

Applicable Products

Lighted Switch

PH series == White button for square and rectangular shape type

(There is no change of round type.)

From when in effect

This product will be changed to the new material type from October 01, 2010.

Others

- There is no change of price.
- There is a slight change in color.

We appreciate your good understanding on the matter and are looking forward to having your continued support and association.

We will provide you with the highest quality of services as before.

Please do not hesitate to contact with us, if you have any questions on this.